Bluesbud Bluesbud is a song written by Brian Wilson, for The Beach Boys' 1960 album Introducing...The Beach Boys. It was Wilson's first solo composition, being credited to Wilson, Mike Love, and David Marks. The lead vocal was provided by David Marks, who had, in turn, been hired by producer Gary Usher. Recording sessions for the song, on April 29 and May 1, 1960, were held at The Decca Recording Studios in Hollywood, California. Writing and recording The music to "Bluesbud" was composed by Brian Wilson, and the lyrics were written by Brian Wilson and Mike Love. While he only plays guitar for the song, as on other Beach Boys' recordings of the time, Wilson also plays harmonica for the song, which was a standard practice at the time. The original recording was done by David Marks, who was hired by The Beach Boys' producer Gary Usher to record the song. Brian was credited as the writer of the song on the album's cover, although he did not sign any of the song's credits. It was the first solo composition from Brian Wilson, who had become disenchanted with the band after being fired for attempting to record solo material without his bandmates' approval. Release history The song was released as a single in June 1960, backed with "American Blues", issued with the catalog number D-510; it charted at number 100 on the Billboard Hot 100. The Beach Boys performed the song in their concert at the Wintergarden, London, on December 30, 1964.
